Interpretation of Part.

18. In this Part, “farmer” includes the duly authorized attorney of a farmer, the personal representative of a deceased farmer, a trustee of a farmer appointed by deed or will and a receiver appointed by, an order of the court or by a mortgagee, even though that person may not have been specifically authorized to mortgage land.

Loans to farmers.

19. (1) The Corporation may, in accordance with rules made under this Act and subject to the provisions of subsection (3) of section 14 of this Act but otherwise upon such terms and conditions as to interest, repayment, security or otherwise and in such manner as the Board may think fit, make a loan to a farmer to enable him to engage more effectively in agriculture—

(a) upon his applying for a loan in writing in such form as the Board from time to time approves; and

(b) upon the authority of a resolution of a meeting of the Board at which the application is properly considered and approved.

(2) A loan under this section may be made for the purpose of reducing or discharging an existing first mortgage if in the opinion of the Board the terms of the mortgage are onerous:

Provided that a loan shall not be made for the purpose of reducing an existing mortgage unless the mortgagee executes a waiver of priority in favour of the Corporation under section 28 of this Act.

(3) A loan under this section shall be made for such period, not exceeding thirty years, and on such terms, as the Board may determine.

20. (1) Where the Board so directs a farmer who is the registered owner of land which is not encumbered with any mortgage (other than one in respect of which the mortgagee has executed a waiver of priority in favour of the Corporation under section 28 of this Act) shall execute a first mortgage of the land in favour of the Corporation.

Charge on the land.

(2) Where the conditions of the loan are such that the Board is satisfied that the execution of a formal first mortgage is not necessary, or where the Board otherwise directs, the borrower shall not be required to execute such a document, and instead the General Manager shall—

(a) deliver a written notification of the loan in the prescribed form to the land registrar, who shall register it against the title to the borrower's land and, where appropriate, endorse a memorandum of the loan on the grant or certificate of title, and thereupon the land shall stand charged with the repayment of the loan and the interest thereon subject to any prior registered charge; and

(b) upon repayment of the loan and all interest due on it, give written notice of the repayment to the land registrar, who shall register it against the title to the borrower's land and cancel any memorandum of the loan which is endorsed on the grant or certificate of title, and thereupon the charge created in respect of the loan shall be extinguished, and a written notification delivered under this subsection shall for all the purposes of this Act be deemed to be a mortgage of the land comprised therein executed by the borrower to secure the loan.

(3) In addition to the action prescribed by subsection (2) of this section, the General Manager shall—

Cap. 23.

(a) deliver a written notification of the loan in the prescribed form to the Registrar-General, who shall register it as an instrument under the Chattels Transfer Act, and it shall be deemed to be an instrument within the meaning of that Act assigning and transferring to the Corporation, by way of mortgage to secure the loan and the interest on it, all the movable property for the time being of the borrower (other than his household and personal effects); and

(b) upon repayment of the loan and all interest due on it, give written notice of the repayment to the Registrar-General, who shall register it as a memorandum of satisfaction under the Chattels Transfer Act, and it shall be deemed to be a memorandum of satisfaction within the meaning of that Act in respect of the whole of the loan.

Extension of time.

21. The Board may in its discretion postpone the repayment or extend the time for the repayment of a loan or for the payment of any interest payable thereon, but so that the maximum period for repayment in respect of any loan shall not exceed thirty years.

Consent by trustee to short-term loan.

22. If a trustee consents to his security being postponed to enable a loan to be made, his consent shall not itself be deemed improper or a breach of trust so as to render the trustee liable in respect of any loss resulting from the loan having been made.

Loan to co-operative society.

23. (1) The Corporation may make a loan to any co-operative society primarily engaged in agriculture to enable the society to erect buildings, install equipment or buy land or otherwise to promote any one or more of the objects of the society—

(a) upon the society applying for a loan in writing in such form as the Board from time to time approves signed by the chairman and the secretary of the society; and

(b) upon the Board being satisfied that the chairman and secretary of the society have been authorized, by a resolution of a meeting of the society passed by a majority of two-thirds of the members of the society and which does not offend any by-laws of the society, to apply for a loan; and

(c) upon the society lodging with its application a list of the persons who were members of the society at the time of the resolution; and

(d) upon the Board being satisfied that the accounts, books, papers and documents of the society are in order; and

(e) upon such security (if any) as the Board may require; and

(f) upon the authority of a resolution of a meeting of the Board at which the application is properly considered and approved.

(2) The Commissioner for Co-operative Development shall, at the request of the Board, furnish such lists and other information as the Board may require regarding any co-operative society.

24. The Board shall at all times have full access to all accounts, books, papers and documents of any co-operative society to which a loan has been made or from which an application for a loan has been received, and may cause all such accounts, documents, papers or books to be examined by a member of the staff or by such other person as the Board may appoint.

Examination of books of co-operative society.

25. (1) Where a loan is made to a co-operative society, all persons who were members of the society at the time of the application for the loan and are named in the list referred to in section 23 (1) (c) of this Act shall be jointly and severally liable to repay the loan and to pay the interest payable on the loan.

Liability of members of co-operative society.

(2) If a person who was a member of a co-operative society at the time of the application for a loan and is named in the list referred to in section 23 (1) (c) of this Act ceases to be a member of that society, he shall nevertheless remain liable under subsection (1) of this section in respect of any part of a loan and any interest which was outstanding at the time he ceased to be a member, and on ceasing to be a member he shall provide security to the satisfaction of the Board for the due discharge of that liability.

Cap. 486.

(3) Where a co-operative society is a company registered under the Companies Act, the liability of the shareholders of the company is limited to the amount (if any) of the share capital not called up, and subsection (2) of this section shall not apply to a person who has ceased to be a shareholder in the company.

PART IV—GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO LOANS

Rate of interest, and form of security.

26. (1) A loan shall bear such rate of interest as the Board with the approval of the Minister for the time being responsible for finance given after consultation with the Minister, may prescribe, either generally or for any particular class of loan.

(2) A mortgage given under this Act shall be in such form as is prescribed under any written law relating to that mortgage or, where no such form is prescribed, in such form as the Board may determine.

Appraisal of land offered as security.

27. The Board, if it considers it desirable, shall cause land offered as security for a loan to be appraised by an appraiser, and in such case the appraiser shall render to the Corporation an appraisal of the land in a form approved by the Board.

Waiver of priority.

28. Any mortgagee may, by waiver endorsed upon or incorporated in the mortgage, agree that a mortgage in favour of the Corporation shall have priority, either for the purposes of this Part or for any of the other purposes of this Act, over his mortgage, and such agreement when registered in the same manner as the mortgage held by him shall for all purposes be binding upon him and as from the date of registration upon his successors in title.

Loan to be taken up within three months.

29. If a loan has been authorized by the Board and the applicant does not, within a period to be fixed by the Corporation (but not exceeding three months after the applicant has been notified of the authorization), execute such documents as the Board may consider necessary to complete the security and lodge them with the Corporation together with the title deeds of and other documents relative to the applicant's title to the property (if it is to be mortgaged), the Board may withdraw its authorization of the loan, and in that event the loan shall not be made and no part of the fees paid in connexion with the application shall be refunded.

30. (1) In every mortgage or other security document executed to secure a loan, there shall be implied on the part of the farmer and in favour of the Corporation the covenants and conditions set out in the Schedule to this Act.

Covenants and conditions to be implied in mortgages.

(2) All such covenants and conditions shall extend to and bind the successor in title of the mortgagor.

31. If a loan is made, and—

Corporation may withhold loan where debtor in default.

(a) at any time any sum of money, whether principal or interest, due in respect of the loan is unpaid; or

(b) the Board considers that the loan has not been applied to the purposes for which it was made or has not been carefully and economically expended; or

(c) the debtor becomes insolvent, or is sentenced to imprisonment without the option of a fine, or conveys or assigns his property for the benefit of his creditors generally, or makes a composition or arrangement with his creditors, or (the debtor having died) his estate is or is about to be administered in bankruptcy; or

(d) there has been a breach of any other condition of the loan; or

(e) the loan is not applied within such time as the Corporation may consider reasonable to the purpose for which it was made, the Corporation may in addition to any other remedies refuse to pay any portion of the loan which has been approved but not yet paid.

32. (1) If a person to whom a loan has been made under this Act (in this section referred to as a borrower) at any time pays to the Corporation an amount in excess of the instalment then due under the mortgage, the Corporation may, if it thinks fit, on the date when the next instalment falls due, apply such amount in payment of the capital portion of one or more of the instalments which would otherwise thereafter fall due, and the instalments may then be recalculated on the basis of balance of capital owing by the borrower over the remainder of the period for which the loan was originally made.

Application of money repaid prematurely.

(2) Such an excess payment, and its application by the Corporation as provided in subsection (1) of this section, shall not exempt the borrower from paying his next instalment when it is due, reduced or recalculated where appropriate.

(3) The Corporation may allow a borrower a rebate of interest, in respect of money paid prematurely, and the rebate shall be in the form of a reduction of the rate of interest charged on that money by one per cent per annum from the date of the payment up to the date when the next instalment falls due.

(4) If the total amount owing to the Corporation is paid off before the due date for payment, the Corporation may claim interest only up to the date of payment:

Provided that, in the case of repayment on a date before the due date for repayment, three months' notice of intention to repay shall be given to the Corporation, and if no such notice is given the Corporation may claim interest in respect of such amount for the period by which the notice actually given falls short of three months.

Procedure for recovery on default by occupation or sale of property.

33. (1) In any of the circumstances or events mentioned in section 31 of this Act, the Corporation may, by notice served on the person to whom the loan has been made or his personal representative (in this section referred to as the debtor) personally or by post, demand repayment of the loan and, after due notice of such demand has been served in similar manner on all subsequent mortgagees of the land on the security of which the loan was made, the Corporation may, without recourse to any court, enter upon the land and either take possession of or sell by public auction the whole or (where subdivision is not prohibited under section 34 of the Government Lands Act) any part of the land upon such terms and conditions as the Board may in all the circumstances consider proper.

Cap. 280.
